

13. Story of Asuras

The Asuras along with the Devas took the elixir from the ocean of milk.

However, they did not get the elixir for those who were troubled and regretted. Tirumal Mohini came and enchanted them, 'We don't want elixir. It is enough to get this Mohini', they said. Tirumal distributed the elixir to Devarkad. The nectar feast was over by the time these people, who were confused in Mohini's mind, came to their senses. The ancients said that even those who tried and collected crores of goods could not consume them because of the kind caused by corruption, it has been sacrificed to the Asuras. On the day when the cat will drink the mixture and go away?

(to do well)
