

36. The story of Anuman bringing the medicine mountain

Rama and Lakshmana crossed the ocean and reached Sri Lanka with monkey armies. The battle continued for several days. One day, Ravana's son, Indrashit, fired a four-faced arrow. So Lakshmanar Sukrivan and the army of monkeys fainted and fell down like dead men. Ramayran was very sad to see their situation. Sambavan chose Ramapiran. Then Sambavan looked at Anuman and ordered you to go quickly and bring the herbs to remove the forest. Hanuman went to the mountain of medicine which is far away in the north. He searched for the herbs to remove the forest, but could not find it easily. He brought the mountain by the roots.

[Aryan act]

(Ramayana)